KIWANIS YOUTH CAMP

KI-E YOUTH CAMP RULES

Youth Camps are part of the Kiwanis Service Leadership Programs (SLP). Through SLP Kiwanis enables its youth and adult leaders to serve their community, opening doors to change the world.

The objectives of these Youth Camps are to teach, train and practice leadership, meet youngsters from other countries and understand the cultural differences in order to establish friendship and build networks. The task is also to develop program promotion and serve in order to inspire the youth to join Kiwanis.

Saying this, KI-E has set the following unalterable rules for all Youth Camps in order to ensure a successful and enjoyable time for the participants.

- 1) Every child and every young person has to be accompanied by a Nation Leader/Supervisor. A Nation Leader/Supervisor is defined as a Kiwanis member, parent, or legal guardian, twenty-six (26) years of age or older. A Nation Leader/Supervisor can bear responsibility over a group of max. 5 participants.
- 2) The camps are lead by a camp management consisting of the camp leader, appointed by Kiwanis and the Nation Leader/Supervisor. The camp management is in charge of the camp life and the program. All participants are obliged to follow the instructions and decisions. Participants are obliged to participate actively in all activities and to contribute to succes.
- 3) Adults giving youths a lift in a vehicle should do so with a second adult in the vehicle. If a second adult is not available the "rule of threes" is recommended: at least three people in the car at all times. All transportation decisions should be made by the camp management in accordance with local laws.
- 4) Inside and outside all camps the consumption of alcohol, drugs and smoking are strictly forbidden for every participant and Nation Leader/Supervisor - regardless of age - during any portion of the event. Exception is made for the presence of medication prescribed for the attendee. Participants are expected to obtain from any activity of sexual nature.
- 5) The sleeping rooms for female and male participants are strictly separated, if possible in different floors. The sleeping rooms are private areas and not open for visiting each other. No activity will happen between 00 am and 6 am unless otherwise specified by the camp management so participants are to be in their private sleeping rooms.
- 6) Except for a parent sharing a sleeping room or another sleeping quarter (e.g. tent) with his/her own child, no adult should share a dormitory with a youngster.

- 7) The camp management and those people authorized shall be entitled to check compliance with the rules at any time. This applies particularly to the rules mentioned in point 3 and 4. This includes the right of inspection of the premises and the personal belongings of the participants with reasonable suspicion.
- 8) It should be noted that KI-E does not pay for bodily injury due to accidents. It is highly recommended to participants and Nation Leader/Supervisor to provide for a corresponding foreign health and casualty insurance.
- 9) Damaged or lost items will be charged to the district of the initiator and can be requested from the initiator.
- 10) In the case of a participant violating the rules – regardless of his/her age – the camp management is entitled to exclude this person from further participation and to send him/her home at their own expense.

The KI-E Youth Camp Guidelines and the Guidelines for Youth Protection of Kiwanis International https://www.kiwanis.org/docs/default-source/training/riskmanagement/youth-protection/guidelines2pageformat\(002\).pdf.pdf) are an inseparable part of these rules.

These rules have to be signed by the participants or in the case of minority by the legal guardians (normally parents).

Nation Leaders/Supervisors have to sign and send these rules too in order to ensure that they themselves are aware of them.
